

My diploma thesis „Journalistic Memoirs“ deals with memorial books written by journalists. It explores a role of these books in the literary theory, development of memoirs, reasons that led authors to write them and reasons of readers' popularity of the memoirs. The thesis also surveys which memoirs of the Czech journalists have been published after 1993 and analyses the particular memorial books of TV anchormen - both, their form and the content.